Prescrire International invites interested readers to contribute to its content. To do so, readers are invited to submit their original articles to the editorial office at Prescrire International. These articles will then be assessed by the editorial team and, if accepted, will be published in the journal. The journal also encourages the submission of summaries, brief communications, and book reviews. Contributions should be sent to the editorial office at the address below.

Prescrire International is a bilingual journal that publishes articles in both French and English. It is owned by Prescrire, a non-profit organization that aims to promote high-quality healthcare by providing independent and evidence-based information to healthcare professionals. The journal is distributed to healthcare professionals around the world, with a focus on clinical practice and research.
